Biography

After 15 years working in the UK charity sector, I've seen brilliant small charities and community organisations struggle with the same frustrating problems over and over again. You know the ones – broken systems that waste your time, endless admin that keeps you from your actual mission, and that constant feeling you're firefighting rather than growing.

That's exactly why I founded Evolve Catalyst – a charity management consultancy focused on helping UK small charities build the solid foundations they need to thrive, not just survive.

I specialise in charity support that actually makes sense for your team. Through hands-on strategic mentoring and practical charity consultancy services, I work alongside charity leaders to cut through all the noise and focus on what genuinely works for your organisation.

This isn't about quick fixes or generic solutions that don't fit your reality. It's about building proper systems, developing effective strategies, and providing ongoing charity support that helps you lead with confidence and grow sustainably.

Because here's what I've learned: the best UK small charities aren't the ones with the biggest budgets - they're the ones with the right support, defined strategy, and systems that work.

If you're ready to build something that lasts, let's connect and chat about how strategic charity consultancy can transform your organisation's impact.
