

Oliver Kamm

ECONOMIST · JOURNALIST

Former banker, leader writer and columnist, The Times

About:

- Gender: Male
- Languages: English
- Travels from: United Kingdom

Engagement Types:

- After Dinner Engagement
- Moderating and Emcee
- Speaking

Topics:

- Business Strategy & Growth
- Geopolitical Impact
- Global Economics & Markets
- International Trade
- Leadership & Management
- Political Trends

Biography Highlights

- Oliver Kamm is a leader writer and columnist for The Times. He joined the newspaper in 2008, having previously worked for 20 years in the City as an economist and investment strategist. He writes a twice-weekly economics column and a weekly column on language, as well being the newspaper's principal leader writer on economics and international affairs.

Biography

Oliver Kamm's background

Oliver Kamm began his career at the Bank of England, where he was an analyst in the International Division covering successively the international capital markets and the economies and banking systems of North America.

In the 1990s he worked as European Equity Strategist and European Quantitative Strategist at HSBC Securities, and then as Head of Strategic Research and Advisor on Business Strategy at Commerzbank Securities. He was a founder of WMG Advisors LLP, an asset management and advisory firm, in 2004.

Oliver left the City in 2008 to join The Times, where he has written extensively on the financial crisis and its consequences for the world economy. His experience in the global economy means he is accomplished at speaking about the future of the UK's markets post-Brexit. He also writes the weekly "Pedant" column on language. His book Anti-Totalitarianism, about foreign policy, was published in 2005. He studied at the Universities of Oxford and London.

In addition to The Times, he has written for The Guardian, Prospect, The New York Times, The Huffington Post and elsewhere. He appears frequently as an economics expert on television and radio including regular appearances on Newsnight, The Today Programme and Channel 4 news.

An in-demand speaker and facilitator, Oliver Kamm's professional, honest, and intelligent manner make him the perfect choice for a range of events.

Videos

Oliver's Topics

British Journalism

Available: Virtually

World Economics

Available: Virtually

International Politics

Available: Virtually

Public Policy

Available: Virtually

The British Economy

Available: Virtually

Testimonials

“

Oliver is extremely knowledgeable and an excellent speaker on all things economics.

Insurance Insider

“

Oliver was an expert on our subject. His presentation skills were first class. He involved other speakers while putting them at ease.

Aradius

“

Excellent. Very professional, ran the event very well. Simply got on with it, asked good questions and managed to engage the audience more than ever before.

British Cleaning Council

“

Oliver is a great speaker – very professional and engaging. He spoke without notes and was honest and upfront with his views.

Civil Society

“

A great speaker, delivered his session with knowledge and authority. He ensured his talk was of relevance and tailored it to us.

AAT

Speaker Bureaus And Talent Agencies

Oliver Kamm is available to book via these agencies

Also available via

Speaking Agency